2010 WHO Convention
Last Updated 3/12/2010 - Subject to Future Updates
EXHIBIT HALL OPENS AT 9:00 AM

FRIDAY, June 18th

9:30-10:30

Room 1 - Homeschooling High School - If you're bringing your teens home for the first time OR reaping the benefits of years of homeschooling, there are exciting options ahead. Learn how to award credits, create transcripts and grant diplomas from your own homeschool. Janice Hedin, long-time homeschool parent of two children whose first day of "school" was college, encourages homeschoolers through workshops, conferences, support groups, Homeschooling High School Seminars, and is co-presenter of the parent-qualifying course, OPTions for Parent Teachers.

Room 2 - Introduction to Homeschooling - Help for the new, inquisitive, or terrified is here. Be encouraged as you gather answers to basic questions including the law, advantages, disadvantages, learning/teaching styles, diverse homeschool styles, and dealing with critics so you can be empowered with the confidence and conviction to teach your own. Tambra Birkebak is mother of four home-educated children (now 1 high school senior and 3 college graduates).

Room 3 - Beyond Survival - Join Diana Waring, well-known for her encouraging, fast-paced and humorous books and recordings on homeschooling and world history, as she shares a very transparent description of the beginning days in her homeschooling, including the struggles and failures. Learn how she went from "barely surviving" to finding great joy on the homeschooling journey. Discover practical insights that will allow your family to thrive in homeschooling, from Diana's out-in-the-trenches, 20-year homeschooling experience, as well as insights gleaned from homeschooling families around the world. Booth #205

Room 4 - Learning by Grace - Mimi Rothschild

Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Online Homeschooling

A comprehensive look at all aspects of Online Homeschooling. This workshop will help you navigate through these choices and empower you to select the right program based on your needs. Free printed materials with a complete checklist of questions to ask online education providers as well as the criteria to look for. Free Online Resources designed specifically for Christian homeschoolers. Booth #900

Room 5 - Latin Road/Phonics Road - Barbara Beers

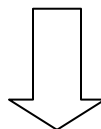

The LATIN Road to English Grammar

No other language affects English as much as Latin and Latin reveals the secrets of many English spellings and meanings. Designed for parents/teachers with no Latin experience, your student, 5th grade and above, will not only study high school Latin but also English grammar, vocabulary, and advanced spelling. And now introducing The BRIDGE to Latin Road for grades 3-6. Booth #705

Room 6 - Mathletics - Scott Flansburg

Mathletics is the Next Generation in Online Math Curriculum

Mathletics offers a K-12 full math and supplemental math curriculum proven to inspire better results. Participate in a fun workshop and experience how Mathletics offers your children the freedom to learn. Booth #105

11:00-12:00

Room 1 - The Nuts and Bolts of Planning a Successful Homeschool Year - Spent money on curriculum you never used? Feel like there is not enough time to cover every subject? Would you like a sense of satisfaction at the end of the day? Jenny Holmes will help you grasp the big picture of planning by breaking it into manageable pieces. With thirteen years of experience homeschooling four children, she has ample examples to share. Whether you utilize one curriculum or are a more eclectic homeschooler, Jenny has strategies for reaching your goals.

Room 2 - How to Identify those Rocks Your Kids are Bringing Home - Every mother struggles over the rock collections their kids bring home. What to do with them? This general, rock-characteristic-oriented workshop helps boil down basic rock identification (grades 3-12). Patrick Nurre has a long and passionate history of rock-hounding, including field experience in eight states. In 2005 Patrick started Northwest Treasures, a rock-specimen, rock hounding, geology-kit store and more. Booth # 202

Room 3 - The Vital Substance of Play - When Lord Wellington said the Battle of Waterloo was won in the playing fields of Eton, he was being quite serious. The Israeli military historian Martin Wan Crevald often called attention to the vital teachings of play and what things cannot be learned easily without it. Join John Taylor Gatto in a consideration of the hidden assets of “play”. Author and Speaker John Taylor Gatto was named New York City Teacher of the Year on three occasions before quitting, citing his unwillingness to hurt children. Booth #106

Room 4 - Analytical Grammar - Erin Karl
Teaching the Essay and Research Paper

Student-tested units for teaching the literary essay and the fully-annotated research paper. Via Robin Finley’s materials and entertaining video, you’ll learn to teach - and evaluate - these vital writing and organization skills. You’ll come away feeling very “empowered”! These inexpensive units will give you everything you need to get started right away. Booth #517

Room 5 - Kinetic Books - Mark Bretl

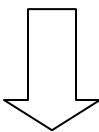

Kinetic Books - Engaging Digital Curriculum for Math

Kinetic Books is a publisher of interactive digital curriculum. Our goal is to provide comprehensive, interactive, standards-based solutions at prices much lower than traditional curriculum providers. See the seamless integration of lessons, video, questions, guided help and grading that engages students at various levels and multiple learning styles at their own pace and reduces your workload. Booth #1003

Room 6 - My Father’s World - Tina Balch

Combining Classical Education, Charlotte Mason, and Unit Studies with a Christian Perspective

The myriad of homeschool choices can be overwhelming. Join My Father’s World as we show how to instill Christian values while integrating great literature, chronological history, geography, hands-on activities, notebooks and timelines, narration, study of Greek and Latin roots, nature studies, and more. Enjoy short, well-planned lessons in the morning with time to pursue individual interests in the afternoon. Booth #709

12:30-1:30

Room 1 - Storytelling: Up Close and Personal as Literature Comes Alive: A Family Workshop - An exciting and interactive workshop for children and adults, from master storyteller and award-winning recording artist Jim Weiss. Participants will learn about the art of storytelling and oral language, focusing on setting the scene, characterization, voice, story shaping, and style. The tenor is casual, and the goal is to have fun with literature, through play, laughter, and discovery of how literature can truly come alive through the storyteller. Booth #404

Room 2 - Whole Brain Teaching Strategies for Ages 5-9 - Do you need to learn some creative methods that motivate children, and transform struggling learners into enthusiastic learners? Then join Sunday Heppner to learn how to utilize strategies that solidify thought and enhance focus, utilizing games, leadership, competition, kinesthetic movement, and even jingles in a fun and exciting way that children love. Sunday Heppner is an author, teacher, singer/songwriter, and mentor/coach for homeschooling families.

Room 3 - An Overview of the Charlotte Mason Method - Want happy children who are thoroughly educated? Go beyond the three R's and learn how to use narration—a powerful, effective, and free technique, with which you can improve your children's level of observation and knowledge by replacing expensive curriculums with the finest literature, poetry, art, and music. Catherine Levison, mother of five, authored A Charlotte Mason Education, a how-to manual, and A Literary Education, an annotated book list for homeschooling families. Booth #206

Room 4 - Geography Matters - Ashley Wiggers
Making Geography Memorable

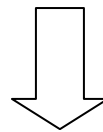

Would you like to inspire your students to WANT to learn more about the geography of our world? Learn how to make geography come alive. Discover creative ways to incorporate games, do simple mapping assignments, and use atlases. Natural geography teaching moments abound. Let us show you ways to use them! Booth #512

Room 5 - Tandy Leather Company - Larry Riekema
Basic Leather Craft

Basic Leather Craft, the tooling and stamping of designs into leather, generates the desire to use the whole curriculum to accomplish more, using leather as the medium. Booth #606

Room 6 - RightStart Math – Kathleen Lawler
Abacus-Based Mathematics

Can you use the time-honored abacus to teach math? Absolutely! See how the AL Abacus fosters quantity recognition and develops addition strategies. Investigate place value in a crystal clear format. Discover the simplicity of multiplication. The AL Abacus is a perfect supplement or is the focal point of RightStart Mathematics! Booth #312

2:00-3:00

Room 1 - Writing Detective: Learning the Art of Self-Editing - As a free-lance editor for a large publisher, Susan Marlow has seen her share of writing bloopers. This twenty-year homeschooling veteran and series author will share editorial “pest” problems that go beyond the common grammar mistakes. She’ll target 10 + writers for “dead” words, overuse of “pet” words, weak verbs and adverbs, and show you how to recognize and avoid their misuse. A practical, hands-on workshop practicing skills you can apply with your own young writers.

Room 2 - Chess as a Means to Academic Success - Elliott Neff

“You must be smart to play chess” - how often have you heard that? To many, chess is a complex game that is difficult to learn; however, this is a misconception. There are just six types of pieces on the chess board - and the benefits of learning this game are many. Chess has been shown to improve math scores, reading skills, attention spans, sportsmanship, confidence, and social skills. In reality, to restate our opening quote more accurately, “Chess makes you smart!”

Room 3 - i-Count from Zero - The Human Calculator, Scott Flansburg - Best selling author and Guinness World Record Holder earned this nickname for his remarkable math skills that allow him to add, subtract, multiply, and divide (even do square and cube roots) in his head all with amazing speed and calculator accuracy. Scott’s workshop is packed with excitement, mind-blowing demonstrations, and hands on learning. Come learn from his revolutionary techniques to unlock the secrets of mental calculation skills and ignite the “human calculator” within. Booth #105

Room 4 - CLASSICAL CONVERSATIONS - Melissa Rubert

Christian Classical Education Made Doable

Classical Conversations is an education services company that supports homeschooling families. We use the classical method of learning to teach children of all ages from the same material at the same time. We have three flagship programs: our Foundations Program, the Essentials Program, and our Challenge-level programs. They are Christian-based programs that utilize dialectic and rhetorical skills. Booth #510

Room 5 - Sonlight Curriculum - Karla Cook

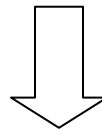

Raising Kids Who Love to Learn

Success in education is best measured by a love of learning. But how do you create students who love to learn? By inspiring them with great literature, biographies and living books! Come learn from a 12-year homeschool veteran how to use great books to create eager learners. Award-winning Sonlight Curriculum builds family bonds and equips students to think. Booth #503

Room 6 - Artistic Pursuits - Daniel Ellis

Three Keys to a Great Art Education

Discover the keys to unlocking your child’s God-given talents in the visual arts. All children can excel in the visual arts with encouragement and teaching methods that address both the expressive and technical aspects of art. You can give your child a great art education at home by focusing on awareness, creativity, and well-timed instruction in the basic principles of art! Booth #204

3:30-4:30

Room 1 - Inspired Homeschooling Through Authentic Family Living - Rain Fordyce, homeschooling mom of two growing boys, editor of the online magazine Authentic Times, creator of the Authentic Family Living online community, and author of the children's book, I am Learning All the Time (homeschooling main characters), will discuss her story of going from public schooling through homeschooling through unschooling to Authentic Family Living. She will share her passion for helping moms and dads learn how to trust themselves and why it is the greatest asset of the homeschooling family.

Room 2 - Virtual World; Real Risks - What is all the Fuss About? - This presentation is a MUST SEE for parents and teens. It will foster a deeper understanding of what social networking sites are, address concerns about MySpace, Facebook, YouTube, online bullying, harassment and predators, discuss ways to create a positive dialog about online awareness, and teach parents to create a foundation of Internet safety. Linda Criddle is a mother, an Internet safety expert of many years, and author of the award-winning book, Look Both Ways: Help Protect Your Family on the Internet.

Room 3 - Balancing Act: To Structure or Not to Structure - Only YOU know if you need to loosen up or tighten up your homeschool efforts. Achieve the long sought-after balance between unschooling and planned academics by implementing Charlotte Mason's "short lessons." Replace dawdling with good habits so that everybody has more free time to enjoy life. Catherine Levison, mother of five, authored A Charlotte Mason Education, a how-to manual, and A Literary Education, an annotated book list for homeschooling families. Booth #206

Room 4 - Your Best Mind - Julie Anderson

Getting Inside Your Child's Head: Teaching with the Brain in Mind, Part 1

Do you fully understand the differences in the male and female brain? Is your child an auditory, visual, or kinesthetic learner? Do you know how to teach with these differences in mind? Understanding the answer to these questions will help parents to better nurture the brain of each child individually. This powerful information is invaluable to all parents who attend. Booth #702

Room 5 - WriteShop - Kim Kautzer

Ten Stumbling Blocks to Writing

"I hate writing!" Is this the cheerful response you get when you give your kids an assignment? Then come discover what students need in order to overcome their anxiety, fear or lack of confidence. Learn how the steps of the writing process can actually motivate your most reluctant children, and gain tips and tools for encouraging their success. Booth #200

Room 6 - Diana Waring Presents! - Diana Waring

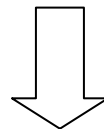

Make History Come ALIVE! in Your Faith and in Your Understanding

Diana demonstrates her non-traditional, chronological curriculum: God's activity in our world; reduced planning; increased learning possibilities, keeping mixed ages together; four-week approach per chapter (Four Learning Styles); Multi-disciplinary approach with activities, resource selections, research, creativity, discussion, writing, Bible, art, geography, literature, music AND cooking; the award-winning, story-telling CDs; parents as facilitators, rather than teachers; selecting options that interest your students. Booth #205

EXHIBIT HALL CLOSES 6:00 PM

7:00 pm - KEY NOTE TALK - John Taylor Gatto

Take Back Your Education - The essential moving parts of an education are quite different from those required by schooling. As formal schooling has evolved, the typical classroom is structurally unable to provide education. Concentration, imagination, association, expression, organization, information, and similar qualities are the targets to aim for, not the memorization of "right" answers. Author and speaker John Taylor Gatto was named New York City Teacher of the Year on three occasions before quitting, citing his unwillingness to hurt children. Booth #106

SATURDAY, June 19th
EXHIBIT HALL OPENS AT 9:00 AM

9:30-10:30

Room 1 - Introduction to Homeschooling - Help for the new, inquisitive, or terrified is here. Be encouraged as you gather answers to basic questions including the law, advantages, disadvantages, learning/teaching styles, diverse homeschool styles, and dealing with critics so you can be empowered with the confidence and conviction to teach your own. Paula Harper-Christensen believes "Parents are a child's first and best teacher." As the mother of four, she homeschooled for 30 years without regrets. She is the founder of OPTions For Parent Teachers, a homeschool parent-qualifying course.

Room 2 - Exposing the Wizard of Oz — A Christian Guide to Teaching History

The essential crash course for every Christian homeschooling parent. Discover insights from Diana's research behind the events of history. Share her wisdom for discovering treasures of history with your family. If you wonder, "Who do I trust and what do I read to know real history?" Diana will equip YOU, regardless of your curriculum, to find your way through the challenges. Diana Waring is well-known for her encouraging, fast-paced and humorous books and recordings on homeschooling and world history. Booth #205

Room 3 - How to Get an Education in Spite of Schooling - Built on the premise that adolescence is a junk word which hardly existed as a term or concept before the early 20th century and the parallel concept that childhood is over much earlier than modern pedagogy assumes, this workshop will explore the wide range of experiences and productions which can re-energize the intellectual and moral life of the young. Author and speaker John Taylor Gatto was named New York City Teacher of the Year on three occasions before quitting, citing his unwillingness to hurt children. Booth #106

Getting Inside Your Child's Head: Teaching with the Brain in Mind, Part 2

The Introversion/Extroversion (I/E) level refers to the amount of stimulus that your brain needs in order to best process information. Introverts need little stimulus while extroverts require a lot. Have you ever thought that far too many children are diagnosed with ADD or ADHD? Does their brain need more stimuli? Learn how understanding the I/E will improve your teaching skills. Booth #702

Room 5 - Latin Road/Phonics Road - Barbara Beers

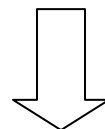

The PHONICS Road to Spelling and Reading

Great spelling does not have to be a mystery when you know the rest of the story. Discover the tools of English that not only make your student a good speller, writer, and reader, but also how to coordinate grammar, composition, and intro to Latin in a multi-sensory approach with music, art, and literature. Booth #705

Room 6 - Arts Attack - Mark Osterink

Art - It's Essential!

This presentation will review the important role art plays in developing right-brain skills (creativity, imagination, visualization, etc.) and in enabling children to develop their full potential as students. It will also review the Atelier art program, and discuss the essential elements of a successful program while viewing slides of children's artwork. Booth #111

11:00 - 12:00

Room 1 - Inspired Homeschooling Through Authentic Family Living - Rain Fordyce, homeschooling mom of two growing boys, editor of the online magazine Authentic Times, creator of the Authentic Family Living online community, and author of the children's book, I Am Learning All the Time (homeschooling main characters), will discuss her story of going from public schooling through homeschooling through unschooling to Authentic Family Living. She will share her passion for helping moms and dads learn how to trust themselves and why it is the greatest asset of the homeschooling family.

Room 2 - Evidence for a Special Creation - There is abundant evidence in support of a special creation as it is recorded in the book of Genesis, despite secular science claims. Patrick Nurre has a long and passionate history of rock hounding, including field experience in eight states. In 2005 Patrick started Northwest Treasures, is active in facets of the creation-evolution debates, and pastors a church in Edmonds, WA. Booth #202

Room 3 - Language Arts for (Almost) Free - So many language arts; so little money. There are boring ways to teach children, and there are interesting ways. Charlotte Mason's techniques bring an end to the tears and complaints, for both parent and child, while drastically reducing the cost! This workshop covers foreign language, composition, handwriting, literature, poetry, spelling, and dictation. Catherine Levison, mother of five, authored A Charlotte Mason Education; A How-To Manual. Booth #206

Room 4 - Rosetta Stone - Sandy Minskoff

Rosetta Stone Homeschool Foreign Language Curriculum

Experience firsthand the power of Rosetta Stone® Homeschool Version 3. We'll explore how this program provides students with a rich, interactive, and engaging language-learning experience, while giving parents the tools and resources needed to track and manage student progress. Find out why Rosetta Stone is Homeschool's #1 foreign language curriculum. Come join us for this interactive language learning experience! Booth #313

Room 5 - Math on the Level - Carlita Boyles

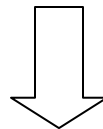

Real Learning using Real-Life Methods

We can go beyond conveyor-belt methods of classroom education! This workshop looks at how to use real-life teaching techniques that encourage real learning instead of a one-size-fits-all workbook approach. We'll discuss how to be sure children understand and achieve long-term retention using review-over-time without busywork. Take charge of your child's math education while making math time more effective and fun. Booth #700

Room 6 - Accountable Kids - SueAnne Kolby

Raising Accountable Kids One Step at a Time

Raising Accountable Kids can be fun when your family works together as a team. Learn to implement simple strategies that bring peace and harmony into the home. This workshop presents hands-on tools that help teach life lessons in a fun, interactive manner. You will gain simple methods to empower your child, shift responsibility, and strengthen your family as a whole. Booth #417

12:30- 1:30

Room 1 - Parent-to-Parent Support for High School Success - Have you ever wished that you could sit down over a cup of coffee and learn from other parents' experiences of homeschooling through high school? ...like talking about course planning, grading, and record-keeping, or having someone walk you through the process of making a transcript, or exploring options for Running Start, or just reviewing the nuts and bolts of college applications? Well, here's your opportunity! During this 3-hour drop-in workshop, parents who are currently homeschooling high school—and many who have already finished—will be available to offer support, advice, and assistance about anything on your mind. Feel free to bring your own resources or records as needed. The atmosphere will be comfortable, casual and inviting, and you can drop in anytime between 12:30 and 3:30.

Room 2 - Stories Worth Telling: An Adult Workshop - Master storyteller Jim Weiss presents a seminar on the benefit and delight of all-in-the-family storytelling. This workshop will demonstrate how the written word can interface with the spoken word. Emphasis will be placed on how storytelling interweaves into all areas of the curriculum and interfaces with reading and writing and just pure fun. Jim's focus is on classical literature, and he will use his own unique talents to illustrate key points as he interacts with participants. Booth #404

Room 3 - Let's Talk Education; You Set the Agenda - The topics of the freeform workshop will be set by the attendees though the use of index cards provided at the door. Attendees will write specific ideas, topics, or concepts they would like Mr. Gatto (and the audience) to explore. Cards will be shuffled and selected at random to be considered as the time allows. Author and speaker John Taylor Gatto was named New York City Teacher of the Year on three occasions before quitting, citing his unwillingness to hurt children. Booth #106

Room 4 - Total Language Plus - Barbara Blakey

Literature as a Teaching Tool

Language Arts is a critical part of any student's education and yet working through spelling, vocabulary, grammar, writing, reading comprehension, and critical thinking can consume mountains of time and energy. Barbara will discuss how these subjects can be combined and brought to life through the study of great literature, while developing your student's ability to think, reason, and communicate. Grades 3-12. Booth #100

Room 5 - MANGO Math Group - Jill Kehle & Mary Curry

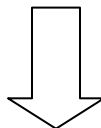

Nourishing Young Math Minds Through Games and Activities

Learn new ways to engage your elementary-aged students in mathematical thinking through games and activities. These games and activities will promote a deeper understanding of mathematical concepts and build math confidence. Booth #803

Room 6 - Artistic Pursuits - Daniel Ellis

Three Keys to a Great Art Education

Discover the keys to unlocking your child's God-given talents in the visual arts. All children can excel in the visual arts with encouragement and teaching methods that address both the expressive and technical aspects of art. Come learn from his revolutionary techniques to unlock the secrets of mental calculation skills and ignite the "human calculator" within. Booth #105

Room 3 - History and Science the Charlotte Mason Way - Retention is everything! Replace those costly and boring workbooks with real life. Learn how to improve your children's power of observation in an effective, thorough, yet loving way. Learn to combine well-chosen literary books, direct contact, homemade nature and history books, and sketching for the desired result of lasting knowledge. Catherine Levison, mother of five, authored A Charlotte Mason Education, a how-to manual, and A Literary Education, an annotated book list for homeschooling families. Booth #206

Room 4 - Bible First Ministries - Becky Develle
Putting the BIBLE FIRST in All Subjects

Don't reserve the Bible for Bible-study. Come learn how to simply and practically use Biblical reasoning skills for all subjects from history to math. Teach your children to take every thought captive to Christ, like the noble Bereans. The Bible contains solutions for educating our children's hearts and minds, and is the only solution for turning our country back to God. Booth #214

Room 5 - Analytical Grammar - Robin Finley
Introducing Analytical Grammar

Robin Finley, the author, will explain how A.G. differs from other programs on the market. You can teach this important subject, thoroughly and comprehensively, in much less time and with less repetition. Recommended in The Well-Trained Mind, Simply Charlotte Mason, and The Old Schoolhouse magazine. An A rating from Homeschoolingfromtheheart.com. Booth #517
